Bismarck Sent To The Bottom; Roosevelt Wants More Planes

President Asks Congress For $3,319,000,000 In Appropriations For More Airplanes

German Battleship Sunk By British At 4 A. M. EST Today

In Crete British Lose Ships But Prevent Germans From Landing From Sea

[By the Associated Press]
London, May 27. — Torpedo carrying planes from the aircraft carrier Ark Royal sank the German battleship Bismarck, A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced today. He said the battleship was sunk at 11 o'clock this morning (4 a. m. EST).

London, May 27 (AP)—High official quarters announced today that "measures are being taken with respect" to the Prince Eugen, German cruiser which was escorting the sunken battleship Bismarck.

London, May 27 (AP)—The British Navy has lost the cruisers Gloucester and Fiji and the destroyers Juno, Greyhound, Kelly and Kashmir while two battleships and "several other cruisers" have been damaged in the Battle of Crete, it was learned in authoritative circles today.

[By the Associated Press]
Washington, May 27.—In the midst of preparing a momentous pronouncement on governmental policy, President Roosevelt asked Congress today for $3,319,000,000 in appropriations for more airplanes.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, told reporters that the Chief Executive would extend his fireside chat tonight an extra 15 minutes and asserted:

"I think you can say that by Wednesday morning there can no longer be any doubt as to what the national policy of this government is. I think I'll just stand on that."

Early announced that the request for huge new funds for planes was being sent to Capitol Hill in a letter to Speaker Rayburn.

Of the total, $2,790,000,000 would be for the Army and $529,000,000 for the Navy.

Early declined to estimate the number of planes to be ordered with the money or to say whether bombers would be emphasized.

Nor would he go into any detail on the possible contents of the Presidential address tonight. He said, however, that it had been cut and worked over and eliminations and additions made until it had reached the point where it could not very well be fitted into the original 30 minutes for which it was scheduled.

Accordingly, Early is asking broadcasting companies, which will transmit Mr. Roosevelt's words to the entire world, for a 15-minute extension of time.

HOOD AVENGED BY SINKING OF THE BISMARCK

Sinking Follows Three Days After Loss Of British Ship

[By the Associated Press]
London, May 27.—The Royal Navy has sunk Germany's brand new 35,000-ton battleship Bismarck, the admiral announced today, in swift revenge for the destruction of the powerful 42,100-ton battlecruiser Hood, proud symbol of Britain's seapower.

Sinking of the Bismarck came within three days of the explosion of the Hood with her 1,300-odd officers and men in an epic battle Saturday between Iceland and Greenland, on the fringe of the Western Hemisphere.

"The German battleship Bismarck has been sunk by our naval forces," the "Guinea-a-word" advertisement said.

Elks Want Court House Painted Red and White

The Gettysburg Lodge of the Elks at a regular meeting Monday evening instructed Secretary Wilbur A. Gelselman to write the Adams County Commissioners requesting that the Court House be painted red, penciled and trimmed with white.

Some time after the Commissioners announced their decision to paint the county building gray the Gettysburg Soroptimists asked that the color be changed to red.

The Elks at their meeting Monday evening received a delegation from York that invited the Gettysburg lodgemen to go to York for the 50th anniversary celebration of the York lodge on July 9-12.

Abbotstown Graduates A Class Of Four

The two-year high school at Abbotstown graduated a class of four at the thirty-first annual commencement exercises which were conducted Monday evening in Emmanuel Reformed Church there.

The commencement speaker was the Rev. Harry Hursh Beidleman, Lutheran pastor from Hanover. The salutary was delivered by Pearl Shaffer and the valedictory by Pauline Zartman.

Marsby C. Little, the assistant county superintendent of schools, presented diplomas to the honor students and to these other seniors: Ralph Baker and Carolina Smith.

The World Today

[By the Associated Press]
With an American-made warplane serving as "eyes" for the British fleet, Germany's new 35,000-ton battleship Bismarck was sunk by aerial torpedoes and shell fire at 11 o'clock this morning (4 a. m. EST) after a grim three-day hunt across the waters of the north Atlantic.

Britons found another big headline in reports from Greek sources in Cairo that 18,000 Germans have lost their lives so far in the aerial invasion of Crete, including 5,000 drowned at sea.

Hitler's high command said the Bismarck was crippled at 9 p. m.

last night, 400 miles west of Brest, when she was hit by two plane-launched torpedoes, smashing her rudder and propellers.

Berlin radio reported that the Bismarck's last message read: "Ship out of control. Will fight to the last shell. Long live the fuhrer!"

The fleeing Nazi raider was reported heading for refuge from pursuing British warships in a French port, either Brest or St. Nazaire, when a torpedo-carrying plane from the British aircraft carrier Ark Royal sent her to the bottom.

The Lions receiving the pins follow:

The club named Dean W. E. Tilberg as its representative to the meeting on Monday evening at the YWCA on the United Service Organization for National Defense.

Talks on Travel
The guest speaker was Dr. Thomas E. Cline, head of the Department of English at Gettysburg College. He spoke of the travel business in general and made the assertion that 50 per cent of the persons engaged in the travel business before the war now have been forced out of that employment because of the great drop in tourist travel abroad.

He spoke particularly of Central and South America, their natural resources, populations, and strategic importance in the present and future international situations.

"Most South Americans don't like the United States and its citizens," he said, "because we're too powerful." He added that the United States can and has on a number of occasions in the past done "about anything we wished" with the countries to the south of us. He praised the efforts of Secretary of State Cordell Hull in improving relations between the Americas and urged the cultivation rather than exploitation of South American trade and the building of bonds "so tight that the Germans can't get the trade and friendship of those nations away from us."

Vice President G. W. Lefever presided at the meeting with 28 Lions and guests in attendance.

REV. LAMBERT FACES COURT ON DRAFT EVASION

Lutheran Minister Is Graduate Of College And Seminary

[By the Associated Press]
Pittsburgh, May 27 (AP)—Denied a plea for dismissal of charges, the Rev. Allen C. Lambert of the Sinking Valley United Lutheran Church near Altoona, was called to court today to be tried for failure to register for conscription.

The 33-year old minister, who would have been exempted from military service even if he had registered, claimed the selective service act violated the anti-slavery amendment of the constitution in an argument made yesterday against his indictment.

Judge F. P. Schoonmaker denied the petition to dismiss the charges and the minister's counsel decided to waive a jury trial and let the court make the decision after hearing the evidence.

Defense lawyers had contended the selective service was a form of involuntary servitude, violated freedom of religion and "rights reserved by the people" in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution and furthermore, that Congress had "no right to conscript manpower in peacetime."

"Congress does have the right to prepare the country for war," ruled the judge. "We don't have to wait until we are in war before we can draft citizens to defend the country."

The government claimed that Mr. Lambert withheld information the government needed for national defense, in his failure to register and that Lambert's constitutional rights were not in question since he would have been exempted as a minister.

One of the defense attorneys was identified as Don M. Harlan, of Detroit, who said he represented the United Mothers of America, whom he termed an "association to preserve civil liberties."

Two of the three pastors served in Blair county by Mr. Lambert voted recently to accept his resignation. The congregation in the third one cast a tie vote.

The Rev. Mr. Lambert is a graduate of Gettysburg College in the class of 1929 and then was graduated from the Lutheran Theological Seminary here. He is a native of Berlin and was married in 1924. The couple has three children.

UNITED SERVICE ORGANIZATION NAMES TILBERG

Local Unit Will Aid In Soldier Recreation

Dean W. E. Tilberg of Gettysburg College, representative of the Gettysburg Lions Club at Monday evening's meeting, was elected as the president of the local branch of the United Service Organization, which was organized at the call of the national organization headed by Thomas E. Dewey.

Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, who is president of the Gettysburg YWCA, was chosen vice president; Mrs. Richard A. Brown, president of the Adams County Federation of Women's Clubs, secretary; C. A. Willis, Gettysburg National Bank president, treasurer, and Hugh C. McIlhenny, publicity director.

It was decided that these officers shall form an executive committee to meet at an early date to plan a financial campaign to raise Gettysburg's share of the $10,765,000 being raised nationally to conduct recreational programs in 400 special recreational camps of the U. S. Government is to build outside the regular Army camps at a cost of $15,000,000, it was explained.

The United Service Organizations, Inc., was formed to meet a recreational need of the soldier for time spent off the reservation. It was felt that the Army adequately provided for religious, educational and recreational needs while the soldiers were in camp but their leisure time off camp is to be handled by the new plan.

Monday evening's meeting was attended by representatives of nearly a score of community organizations. It is expected Gettysburg's quota in the national campaign will be about $400 to $450.

More Troops Use Battlefield For Test Runs and Maneuvers

Two military units, from Fort Meade and from Indiantown Gap, came to the Gettysburg Battlefield on test runs or for maneuvers while a detachment of 700 men and an equal number of horses and mules from Camp Ritchie cut short a scheduled three-day stay here Monday afternoon to return to Maryland.

The 28th Signal Company from Indiantown Gap arrived here this morning and set to work at once setting up a complete radio station along West Confederate avenue at the site of the first CCC camp. The purpose of the two-day field exercise is to give the men practice in installing and operating a complete radio and telephone network for use as a battlefield message center. They will stay here until Wednesday evening.

The 105th Anti-Tank Battalion from Fort Meade brought 11 pieces of equipment, including several types of Army trucks, here this morning on a test run under the command of Colonel Charles L. Suplee and four staff officers. There are 70 men in the group.

Running on a close time schedule the men are touring the battlefield during a four-hour lay-over here before returning to their post late this afternoon. The soldiers inspected the battlefield relief map in the National Park offices in the Post Office building.

INDIANTOWN "STRAIGHT FROM THE FEED BOX"

[By the Associated Press]
Indiantown Gap, Pa., May 27.—Although the practice apparently works for correspondents in warring nations, it's worth a reporter's skin to quote "authorized," "informed," "reliable" or similar unnamed sources in writing army news at Indiantown Gap.

Too often officers, especially junior ones, are as glib as enlisted men and their information, "straight from the feed box," turns out to be another reservation rumor.

And then it's the reporter who pays and pays and pays. Of course this doesn't happen on the "big stuff" or news that has already taken place, but as training wears on, dull days crop up and with them arises the need for contemplation of the future. That's where the danger lies.

Rumors Like Mosquitoes
Capitol Hill at Harrisburg is a piker compared to this training ground of the 28th Division and 104th Cavalry so far as speculation is concerned. Rumors breed at Indiantown Gap like mosquitoes on New Jersey marshlands, only worse.

The expression "to lie like a trooper" takes on added significance as one rubs shoulders with Pennsylvania's 13,000 "finest" and listens to the "gospel" of what's going to happen next.

The rumors aren't malicious, and the soldiers probably believe them implicitly, but the problem of separating the chaff from the grain while getting a casual "no comment" from high-ups often makes a newsman wish he'd "stood in bed."

Showers Promised During Next Three Days

Extended weather forecast for the period from May 27 to May 30.

North and Middle Atlantic states — local showers mostly light to moderate Wednesday except fair in southern Virginia. Near normal temperature likely Saturday night.

Snyder on Monday afternoon and was returned to jail in default of bail for a hearing in court. Waddle is charged with having thrown stones at cars on West Middle street.

300 COUNTIANS TO REGISTER IN DRAFT, JULY 1

President Sets 2nd Registration Date

President Roosevelt's order today for a second registration under the Selective Service Act on July 1 will place an estimated 300 Adams countians who have reached the age of 21 since last October on the draft lists.

President Roosevelt said in his announcement that another registration was required "in the interest of national defense."

There has been no detailed announcement about the listing of 1,000,000 men on July 1 and local draft boards in Adams county today were without any official information on the subject.

For 21-Year-Olds
The new registrants will include those men who, on or before July 1, have attained their twenty-first birthday and have not registered previously. Every male citizen and every male alien must comply if he is within the prescribed age limit. As in the first registration proclamation, arrangements are made for "special cases" of persons unable to register on the prescribed date because of circumstances beyond his control.

A selective service official said that it was probable that the 1,000,000 men to be registered would be rated according to priority for military service in a new national lottery similar to the one held last year after the first registration of 16,500,000 in October.

According to present tentative plans, the new registrants in each local draft area would be added at the bottom of the present list of men available for service.

New Registration By Local Boards
Announcement from Washington today stated that the registration will be conducted by the 6,500 local draft boards. The manner in which the names of the new registrants will be integrated into classified lists in the draft board files has not yet been announced. Two plans have been suggested—sandwiching them among the original registrants by lottery or simply adding them to the end of the present lists. Draft officials at Washington have indicated the latter plan probably will be followed.

MRS. J. A. SHEFFER TO HEAD LEGION AUXILIARY

Officers Elected Last Night Installed In September

Mrs. John A. Sheffer was elected president of the Auxiliary to the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion of Gettysburg during a regular meeting conducted Monday evening in the Legion home. She will succeed Mrs. Gervus W. Myers as local president next October when other officers chosen Monday evening also will take up their duties. The installation will be conducted in September.

The other officers chosen follow: First vice president, Mrs. James Howe; second vice president, Mrs. Roy Bollinger; recording secretary, Mrs. Erle R. Deardorff, re-elected; treasurer, Mrs. William Shover, re-elected; chaplain, Mrs. Roy Maxwell; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Ella Howard, re-elected, and historian, Mrs. C. Arthur Brame, re-elected.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, chairman of the Poppy Sale committee, reported $80.22 raised last Saturday in Gettysburg by poppy sales. She said first prize of $1.25 for the largest number of sales went to Barbara Oyler; second of $1 to Emma Lower, and third of 75 cents to Dorothy Shetter. A few poppies remain to be sold here on Decoration Day.

The Auxiliary named these delegates to attend the next county council meeting to be held June 5 at Littlestown: Mrs. Winebrenner, Mrs. Ezra Hartman, Mrs. Roy Fridinger, Mrs. Brame and Mrs. Morris Gidlin.

A report on the presentation of pin awards to eighth grade girls at the Lincoln School was made. Gloria Ecker and Carolyn Blocher won the honor this year. The award at the Parochial School has not yet been made this year.

The Auxiliary draped its charter in black with a special ceremony Monday evening in memory of Mrs. W. D. E. Scott, Gold Star member of the Auxiliary, who died recently.

The next Auxiliary meeting will be held in the form of a social on June 9 with Mrs. Frank Deardorff in charge of arrangements. That meeting likely will be the last until early fall, members indicated.

HOMERUNS IN ELEVENTH WIN FOR CARDINALS

Cards Powerhouse Takes 7th Straight Victory

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The only club in the National League that packs dynamite at the plate is that swashbuckling crew headed by Billy Southworth in St. Louis.

Others set off big firecrackers sometimes, but the league leaders really have the boom-boom that means heavy blasting. The Cardinals are young and fast, make lots of mistakes and occasionally beat themselves. However, they have had more "big innings" this spring than any other team in the senior circuit and they are dangerous right up to the final out in every game.

They proved it again Monday by chopping down the Chicago Cubs, 12-11, with two home runs in the eleventh inning.

The Cards took a 9-0 lead in the first three innings, scoring seven times in the third, but came apart in the next stanza to let the Cubs get six runs and eventually take the lead, 10-9, in the seventh. In the last of the ninth Don Padgett doubled home the tying run. In the 11th Bill Nicholson homered to put the Cubs ahead again but Jim Brown, who had doubled with the bases loaded in the third, hit a home run to tie the score and Padgett followed immediately with another round-tripper.

This was the Cards' seventh straight victory.

The Brooklyn Dodgers were presented with a 6-4 triumph by the Phillies when Centerfielder Joe Mott dropped a fly with the bases loaded in the fifth and Shortstop Bob Bragan made a wild relay on the same play. The combination of errors allowed three runs.

The veteran Fred Fitzsimmons made his first start of the year for the Dodgers and received credit for the victory with the help of faultless relief hurling by Kirby Higbe in the last three and one-third innings.

The world champion Cincinnati Reds outslugged the Pittsburgh Pirates for a 7-3 decision in a night game. The Reds punched out 13 hits, including home runs by Harry Craft and Ernie Koy.

Bucky Walters was raked for 10 safeties, but squirmed through the route for his fifth victory against four defeats.

In the only American league encounter the Detroit Tigers stopped the Cleveland Indians, 5-2, with three runs in the ninth, two on Bruce Campbell's double with the bases loaded.

Leaves Million To Grand Niece

Philadelphia, May 27 (AP)—A grandniece of the late J. W. Van Dyke, former chairman of the board of the Atlantic Refining Company, received a $1,000,000 trust fund from his estate under an Orphans Court decision. She is Mrs. Margaret Richardson Trout, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Richardson who little more than a year ago eloped to Easton with Thaddeus Riddle Trout.

Mental Blackout Was Alcoholic Amnesia

Philadelphia, May 27 (AP)—Judge Vincent A. Carroll delayed fixing the degree of guilt after hearing evidence on a guilty plea of James Garrity, 49, to murdering a brother policeman, Martin O'Malley, during a drinking session. A psychologist testified Garrity, veteran officer of more than 20 years, suffered "a mental blackout" or alcoholic amnesia.

CONN SCORES KNOCKOUT OVER BUDDY KNOX

Ohio Heavyweight Unable To Come Out For 8th Round

Pittsburgh, May 27 (AP)—Billy Conn, waltzing lightweight champ stalking Joe Louis, points proudly to his eighth-round technical knockout triumph over pudgy Buddy Knox, Dayton, Ohio, heavyweight, as a sample of what he "will give Joe next month."

"I've had the workout I needed now and I'm ready for the Bomber," asserted Billy a few minutes after his thumping lefts and rights floored Knox three times and beat him into helplessness last night before Pittsburgh's largest fight crowd of 27,043 spectators.

Billy, weighing 180, was 10 pounds lighter than his 24-year-old opponent. He started so slowly against Knox that Promoter Mike Jacobs could be seen writhing in his ring-side seat as he debated whether this was the man to face Louis.

Then, almost without warning in the fifth, Conn's flicking left suddenly became a bolt that started the Ohioan's head bobbing. Knox slipped to his knees after one of them hit him below the heart in the sixth but got up without a count.

But the next round a series of four lefts to the head backed Buddy into a corner and a right dropped him for a nine count. He came up into a fresh storm of leather and again flopped for a toll of eight. The third time he left the canvas after a nine count found the bell ending the round. He couldn't get off his seat for the eighth.

"That boy can hit harder than anybody gives him credit," commented Knox later. "He doesn't have much of a right, though."

Jacobs, who is promoting the June 18 Conn-Louis battle in New York, admitted he had been a "bit worried" about the Pittsburgher's slow start.

"He did look good, though, when he got started, didn't he?" commented the promoter.

Before the battle Jacobs had indicated he might listen to demands that Buddy Baer be substituted for Billy in June unless Conn proved his rights against Knox. The clamor for Baer arose after his gallant stand against Louis last Friday.

Conn's hometown stand brought him the biggest purse of his career—a $3 1-3 per cent slice of the $68,000 house.

NAZIS DANES IN TRADE PACT

Berlin, (AP)—A new trade agreement was concluded between Denmark and Germany. Specific details were not made public but it was learned that more Danish butter and pork are to be delivered to Germany in the course of the current year.

Budge And His Beaming Bride

Don Budge, the famous professional tennis player, and his beaming bride, the former Dierdra Conselman of Glendale, Calif., leave St. Chrysostom's Protestant Episcopal Church in Chicago in a taxicab after their wedding. The 19-year-old Mrs. Budge is a former Stanford University student.

LOOKING AROUND

So far this spring Gettysburg college athletic teams have scored a total of 19 victories as against 20 setbacks and a tie. Only the Bullet baseball team has any remaining contests, meeting Dickinson at Carlisle on Friday and here Saturday afternoon. The track, tennis and golf teams have concluded their schedules.

Outstanding of the records by the various teams is that turned in by the track squad. The Bullets won six dual meets without a defeat and won the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate Association meet.

After a wobbly start during which the first four matches were lost, Bob Fischer's tennis team played much better ball and wound up with five wins as against eight setbacks.

The golf team failed to win a match, losing six engagements and tying one. In their only match the jayvee tennis-men lost to Mercersburg Academy.

Coach Ira Plank's baseball nine has played 13 games and has won eight times. The Bullets also gained the championship of the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate League.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock officials of the Community Softball League will hold their final meeting before the opening of the circuit next Monday evening. Important business will be transacted.

Time trials for the National Open Championship auto races to be held at the York Fairgrounds on Memorial Day will begin at 11 a. m. with the first race in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. In the event of rain the races will be held Saturday.

Temple University's baseball team has laid claim to the baseball championship of eastern United States. The Owls base their claim on having hung up 16 wins in 18 starts, defeating some of the best teams in the country. One of those two setbacks was an 11-3 verdict lost to the Gettysburg College Bullets which should make the Plank-men feel pretty good.

Altoona Policeman Kills Threatening Negro

Altoona, Pa., May 27 (AP)—Authorities investigated today the slaying of a negro last night by an officer who told the coroner he fired in self defense after the negro pulled a knife on him.

The dead man, identified as James B. Hall, 50, was shot through the back. The policeman said he was attempting to arrest him for theft.

Two Killed On Three-Lane Highway

Altoona, Pa., May 27 (AP)—A man and woman were killed last night in a head-on collision of two cars on the three-lane highway 220 near Bellwood. The dead were Frank W. Harpster, 35, Altoona, and Mrs. Pearl Coleman, 36, Altoona R. D.

Two youths in one of the cars were injured seriously.

Civil War Water

Boy Is Dead

Philadelphia, May 27 (AP)—John J. Kinney, who carried water for Union soldiers, shined their boots and saddles for six months before they learned he was only 13 years old, is dead at the age of 93. Surviving are 11 children, 18 grandchildren, about 29 great grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

TOWN AND COUNTRY GET TOGETHER

Ada, Okla., (AP)—Mrs. Jessie Morgan, Pontotoc county home demonstration agent, reports that farm women near here have a unique "swap" scheme. In the coming season many farm women have more food than they have jars in which to preserve it. City women have more jars than food. So Mrs. Morgan arranged for the city women to swap empty jars for full ones. More than 3,000 jars were exchanged.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams

A BOOK A WEEK
I AM constantly finding fault with myself because I have read so few books—that is, that I could just as well have read, and which I have long regretted that I have not read.
Actually I have read hundreds where I might have read thousands over the term of my years.

Recently I have been confined to my home, ill—a rare thing for me—but during these few days I have gotten out the same work that I do regularly, and have read two books besides—in one week. Over 900 pages of reading—and I am a slow reader. When I read a book
I do so because of the story, to get acquainted with the characters, and to learn something, for I consider no book worth while that does not entertain or enrich one in some way.

It should be quite easy to read at least one book a week. In two years you will have read over 100 books!
If you selected these books well you should be greatly improved in mind and a much improved human being, far more interesting to those about you than if you had not read in this manner.

With our public libraries, and good books so very cheap these days, there is no excuse for this lack of reading. Once you get the reading habit, a horizon is enlarged about you and you appreciate and understand life
and people in a clearer and better way than ever before.

Two well read people are always interesting companions. They always learn from each other. The most stimulating hours I have ever known have been those spent with some lover of books. I can even recall an entire evening spent with a college president in my library—and before much time had gone on, we were both on the floor, pulling books
from the lowest cases and talking about them!

The most tragic thing about this cruel world war, outside the human suffering and needless slaughter, has been the destruction of books and art, and the precious heritage of the ages. Not until we come to love books do we realize their worth to the world.

An hour a day in the early morning, or before retiring for the night,
should be sufficient to complete one average size book a week. Try it, and see what a thrill you get out of it! Many a fine book can be read in two sittings.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Flowered Friends."

Out of the Past
(From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times)

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Local Miscellany: The Sunday
train on the G. & H. was started last week.
Bruce Shaffer, of this place, had several fingers of his left hand mashed last week while working at the Carlisle Shoe Factory.
It is expected that the work of removing the dead from the grave yard connected with the United Presbyterian church in this place will be begun this week.

We understand that John A.
Livers has bought out the interest of Adam Ertter in the Gettysburg Box factory.

Freight rates from Baltimore have been reduced three and four cents.
Mr. J. Jere Plank, of this place, has taken a contract to haul 100 tons of bark off Jack's Mountain to the Fairfield station for Mr. Mizel.
James Miller, Sr., has purchased from Harry Epleman, of Aspers's station a building lot on which he intends to erect a dwelling house after harvest.

Mr. W. S. Duttrow, of this place, has purchased an acre of ground
at the ore bank along the railroad near Fairfield, and is putting up a set of Fairbank's scales on it. These scales will be used to weigh bark, and Mr. D. also intends building a storehouse at the same place.

The managers of the Gettysburg and Petersburg turnpike company declared on Tuesday a dividend of 1/2 per cent on the stock. William McSherry, Jr., Esq., was elected a manager in place of Mr. D. Kendle-hart, deceased.

Marriages: Currens-Black. — May 14, at Bendersville, by Rev. Lewis Kohr, Peter Currens, of Cumberland county, to Miss Susanna A.
Black, of Menallen township.
Epley-Kemper. — April 21, in this place, by Rev. Joel Swartz, Wm. D.
Epley, of Cumberland township, to Miss Annie M. Kemper, of Tyrone township.

New Masonic Lodge: A Masonic lodge was instituted Friday afternoon in Waynesboro. It is the only one in the place and was named the Acacia Lodge. The ceremonies were held in the Odd Fellows Hall,
and were conducted by Grand Master Africa and the other grand officers of Pennsylvania.

District Deputy H. D. Scott, J. H.
Stine, E. H. Minnigh and G. H.
Buehler, of this place; W. D. and
Al. Himes, of New Oxford; George

Baker, of East Berlin, and Charles Blocher, of Littlestown, were in attendance.

Miss Hattie Fahnstock left last week for Carlisle.

Miss Virginia O'Neal left on Monday for Chicago, to be absent several weeks. She will act as bridesmaid for a school friend, who is to be married on the 3rd of June.

Miss Addie Richards of Allentown, is visiting her aunt, the Misses Mc-Clean.

Miss Sneeringer, of Baltimore, is visiting Miss Roberta Wolf.

Rev. Father J. B. Archambault, of New Oxford, has preached his farewell sermon on Sunday of last week.

Mr. Jacob Blocher, of Adrian, Mo., and Miss Edith M. Studebaker, of South Bend, Ind., are visiting with the family of Mr. David Blocher.

The G. & H. Sold: The Gettysburg and Harrisburg railroad was sold in Philadelphia on Tuesday last to the Philadelphia and Reading company.
The interest sold which is a large majority is understood to have been on the basis of $550,000 for the whole property, the Cumberland Valley railroad company having refused to make an offer of over $500,- 000. The railroad running from Hunter's Run to Pine Grove Furnace is not included in the sale. The Pine Grove branch will be extended five miles in order to reach the Fuller
slate quarry and brick clay beds.
This part of the road will still remain under the control of Col. Ripper. Work on the extension will begin this week. It will cost about $60,000.

GOLFER DESCRIBES HIS GAME
What sort of a game do I play?
I've broken a hundred just twice.
Though for lessons I frequently pay,
Somehow I continue to slice;
My right shoulder gets in the way
And my putting has never been nice.

I ought to do better, I know,
But I lunge and I chop and I jerk.
I don't follow through with my blow
And I can't get the mashie to work.
I'm two dollars a day to the pro
And as much to his ball-selling clerk.

I know how the shot should be made.
My practice swing's pretty to see.
Full many a match box I've played
With a stroke that's correct as can be.
But I do something wrong, I'm afraid,
Whenever a ball's on the tee.

My handicap? Four strokes too low.
One good game and that's what I get.
Just ask all the fellows who know;
They take me whenever I bet.
The committee won't raise me although
I've never played up to it yet.

The Words They Used

Prime Minister Eamon De Valera (of Eire, in denouncing the British proposal to apply conscription to neighboring Northern Ireland)—
"There could be no more grievous attack of any fundamental human right than the plan to force an individual to fight by force for a country to which he objected to belong."

Stephen Early (telling reporters that the address Mr. Roosevelt was to have made two weeks ago,
which they were not to build up one of extreme importance, has been replaced by the one he will make over the radio Tuesday evening)—
"Up to yesterday I would have repeated the warning. Today I can tell you the President will be engaged through the day, into the night and most of tomorrow (Tuesday) revising his speech in view of rapidly changing conditions abroad."

State Supreme Court (reviewing a case where murder was done during robbery)—"The contention of the defendant, that he had not intended to kill, but that the deceased grabbed his wrist and he could not get away so started to fire * * * even if that were true it would not lessen the crime and make it murder of less than first degree."

Admiral Erich Raeder (commander in chief of the German navy in an interview with Domei, Japanese News Agency)—"Since the nature of cargoes of convoyed ships, according to American admissions, would be established from the very beginning as contraband, resort to this type of convoy system would not be neutral in the sense of international or American treaties, but an open act and a bare unprovoked attack."

President Roosevelt (stating that under new legislation farmers cooperating with the government farm program will be able to receive 85
per cent parity loans, plus cash
parity payments, plus soil conservation payments in cash)—"Under no circumstances should the sum of these three exceed parity * * * I am approving this joint resolution on the distinct understanding that parity payments will be limited to the amount necessary to bring the basic commodities to parity but not beyond parity."

Soldier Rumors Make
Reporter's Work
Difficult

As the soldiers get more and more accustomed to the barracks they get more and more "profident" in uncovering "the real dope" and they do not lack the final convincing details. Former newspapermen in the ranks are no better than the others.
During the Division's earlier days here, the commonest indoor sport
was discovering that the troops
would be sent west, or south or north within the week. In the middle of winter numerous sources had the Division heading south "so that the boys could be acclimated before going to Dakar, in Africa."

News of Selectees
As fantastic as that. The less fantastic rumors, however, are the more readily believed, and they're the ones to look out for.

The current topic of conversation
at the Gap is the contingent of se-lectees to be sent here to bring the Division to full war-time strength.
Here is a sequence of events on this particular pipe dream:

March—Officers say selectees will come in one huge bloc sometime in July; as many as possible will be Pennsylvanians.

Sometime in May—Officer has
"hunch" selectees will come before the end of month; if any Pennsylvanians are among them it will be purely coincidental.

A few days later—Officers say se-lectees to start arriving here June 20 in groups of 300.

A few days later—Officers say se-lectees will start arriving here June 20 in groups of 300 each—probably all Pennsylvanians.

May 25—Officers say 250 selectees
to join 104th Cavalry today; to come from Fort Riley, Kansas.

The following night (and this isn't rumor this time) Lt. Col. Albert
H. Slackpole, commander of the 104th, says first selectees will probably join his regiment by mid-June.
And that's the way it goes.

Today found the 104th, fresh from last week's maneuvers, "protecting"
the New Jersey coast from a mythical enemy, on deck for an inspection by a party of staff officers from Washington and other points.

Cavalry Unit Inspected
The first Cavalry unit in the nation to be inspected on progress made in the 13 weeks basic course, the 104th was given the once-over by Col. Charles H. Gearhart and Col. Kenneth Buchanan of general
headquarters, Washington; Capt.
James Polk, third Cavalry, Fort
Myer, Va.; Lt. Col. Bernard Wilson,
from the office of chief of Cavalry,
Washington, and Col. A. K. Arnold,
chief of staff, second Army corps,
Wilmington, Del.

The inspection will continue tomorrow.
The following night (and this isn't rumor this time) Lt. Col. Albert
H. Slackpole, commander of the 104th, says first selectees will probably join his regiment by mid-June.
And that's the way it goes.

Bootleg Camel
Now Defies Miner's
Union And State
Itself

(From the Harrisburg Patriot) Anthracite counties may be shocked over the opposition of the Independent Miners' Association,
but they have no reason to be surprised. They watched the birth of the bootleg coal business, and did nothing. Coal was stolen from their eyes, and they not even blinked. Truckers flocked from far and near, attracted by profits
in coal which they could buy cheap
because the original owner got no pay for it.

County authorities looked the other way when coal was taken from the ground by men who had no more right there than if they were invading a farmer's orchard or a housewife's garden. The excuse of some officials that they couldn't stop it has little weight. Authorities in some counties, notably in the northeast anthracite area, could and did stop it. It never got a foothold there.

The State was likewise derelict in its duty. The business has grown through three politically fearful administrations, through several investigations and through numerous compromise recommendations to control it. Excused as a child of the depression, which would vanish with better times, it now, even with prices and wages on the rise, shows itself strong enough to ignore the wishes of the miners' union and defy the State itself.

Aesop had a fable about a camel who pleaded to stick his head in his master's tent. After the head came the neck and front feet until finally the camel occupied the tent and the owner was crowded out into the desert. Whatever the moral Aesop drew, the anthracite counties and the Commonwealth itself ought to be the first to recognize it in the bootleg coal situation.

It takes $522,600 worth of coin wrappers a year to wrap up America's pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and larger coins, reports the Census Bureau.

'Round About
Town

Gettys Lodge of the IOOF of Gettysburg will dedicate its new lodge home on Chambersburg street
this evening with Samuel I. Koller, Shillington, grand master of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction of the order, conducting the ceremony.

Gettysburg Rotarians heard a talk on Monday evening on railroad and the great railroad system of the country together with the modern improvements that have been made. The speaker was Rotarian N. B. Schnurman. The meeting was held at the YWCA building with the president, Dr. R. S. Baby, presiding. About 30 members and guests attended.

Bugs and a few mosquitoes annoyed the borough fathers to such an extent during their special meeting in the Engine House Monday evening that a formal okay is to be given to an order for window screens next Monday evening.

The first plans for the annual Community Flag Day celebration to be held here June 14 will be laid at a meeting of representatives of community organizations this evening in the Elks home. The Elks lodge is sponsoring the affair.

Dr. Harvey D. Hoover of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary has accepted the chairmanship for Gettysburg of the Mobilization for Spiritual Ideals and Basic Freedoms
Program. This national movement, which is six years old, believes Christianity requires an environment of freedom and it is, therefore,
the responsibility of the Church to champion it. The movement opposes the "statism trend which makes citizens servants of states," it has been explained by Dr. James W. Fifield, Los Angeles, national director.

Doctor Fifield, who is minister of the First Congregational church in Los Angeles, has announced that the rapidly developing organization
now has 300 cities and towns developing local programs.

Home Economics Clubs

Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative, was in Carlisle Monday to help other extension representatives from nearby counties plan the annual summer camp for 4-H club
girls in this area to be held later at Camp D. R. Thompson, Laurel Lake.

Meetings of seven 4-H clubs in as many county communities have been listed by Miss Adams for this week as follows:

At 9:30 a. m. today, Miss Adams met with a clothing club at the home of Ardis Jones, Bendersville,
and at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon with a room improvement club at the home of Florence Myers in Brushstown.

Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., a foods club meeting with Emma Brinkerhoff in York Springs; at 1:30 p. m., a clothing club meeting with Ethel Marie Bly at New Chester, and at 6:45 o'clock, a Fairview club meeting with Dorothy Hinkle.

Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock,
Fairfield foods club with Janet Musselman, and at 1:30 p. m., Rock
Chapel clothing club with Vena Jeanne Neil.

Season's programs with most of the adult home economics clubs that operated in the county during the fall, winter and spring months ended with the sight-seeing trip to Washington, D. C., last Thursday. Sixty-six women representing clubs at York Springs, Brushstown, Round
Top, Greenmount, East Berlin, Barlow, Hampton and Fairfield made the trip in two busses.

HOOD AVENGED
BY SINKING OF
THE BISMARCK

Sinking Follows Three Days After Loss Of
British Ship

mirally announced tersely, in what may have been a counterpart of the World war battle of Jutland.

"Details of the operations," it added, "will be announced as soon as possible."

Hit By Torpedo From Air

Just how many units of the opposing fleets were involved was not disclosed, but they must have been considerable.

The admiralty announced last night that the Bismarck had been damaged by a torpedo from a fleet
air arm plane, possibly launched from an aircraft carrier or catapaulted from another big ship of the pursuing fleet.

Slowed Up 30 Knot Ship
This apparently slowed up the Bismarck, ordinarily capable of making at least 30 knots.

The Bismarck was 792 1/2 feet long,
had a beam of 118 feet, a draught of 26 feet and carried eight 15-inch guns, twelve 5.9-inch guns and sixteen 4.1 inch guns. She also carried four aircraft and was equipped with two catapults.

There was considerable speculation just where the British fleet caught up with the Bismarck. Obviously the chase had covered hundreds of miles since Saturday's engagement in the Strait of Denmark,
a 250-mile stretch of water between Greenland and Iceland.

In Saturday's engagement the admiralty announced that a unit of the German force had been hit by a torpedo. If this was registered on the Bismarck, it might have cut her speed and enabled the Royal Navy to keep her in sight for her final destruction.

(Germany has never announced how many officers and men her new battleships carry,
but probably the Bismarck had about the same complement as British ships of the same size, between 1,300 and 1,500 men.)
(The British announcement made no mention of the fate of the Bismarck's crew.)

The Admirals In Command
Fleet Admiral Guenther Luet-jens, winner of promotion and the Knight's Cross of the Iron Cross—
Germany's highest military decoration
—for his part in the Norwegian campaign last year, was in command of the German units. He also was credited with directing Nazi naval units which sank 22 British vessels out of convoys in the Atlantic last March.

Opposing him in Saturday's battle
was Vice Admiral L. E. Holland, whose pennant went beneath the waves with the Hood, after, as the admiralty put it, the Bismarck got in an "unlucky hit" that tore into the battle cruiser's magazine and ripped her to pieces.

The Battleship Score
With the loss of the Hood, Britain was left with 15 battleships and battle cruisers, the number she had in commission when the war started.

The gap left by the sinking of the Hood and the battleship Royal Oak, torpedoed by a Nazi U-boat at Scapa Flow early in the war, has been filled by two battleships, the King George VI and the Prince of Wales, 35,000-ton sisterships.

Germany entered the conflict with five battleships and pocket-battleships and now, with the Bismarck gone, is reckoned by the British to have three in service.

She lost the pocket-battleship
Admiral Graf Spee by scuttling in December, 1939, at Montevideo and the British say the battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau have been damaged repeatedly by the RAF since they holed up several weeks ago at Brest, France.

Since the war started the Germans have commissioned the Bismarck, and also may have put the Tirpitz, her sistership, into service.
The Germans claimed that, in addition to sinking the Hood, their units badly damaged a battleship
of the King George V class and forced her to withdraw from the Saturday battle.

A QUEEN WEARS CLOTHES THAT ARE NOT NEW

Princess Does Without Frosting on Her Cake

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Feature Writer

The women of England's royal family are helping fight the war by going without things.

The fashion-plate Duchess of Kent is giving less time to clothes and has bought at least one bargain basement hat. Little Princess Margaret Rose went without frosting on her birthday cake. Queen Mary has substituted west county cider for wine. Queen Elizabeth seems to have cut down orders for her voluminous wardrobe and is wearing clothes she has had for some time. The Duchess of Gloucester has closed York house in London and has moved to the country. The Princess Royal (King George's sister) made headlines by giving a pint of blood at a transfusion center where she was enrolled as No. 7,743. And they all are pruning their menus to conform with war-time food restrictions.

The quartet that belongs to the king's generation is immersed in war work, and all except the queen appear frequently in natty military uniforms. Despite the war and the fact that she is Commandant-in-Chief of the women's army, navy and air services, Queen Elizabeth continues to wear the light colored ensembles she has always favored. She will probably continue to do so, for Queen Mary is said to have tutored her for royal family duties since she was Duchess of York and the dowager queen is credited with the belief that a queen must dress with distinction which sets her apart from the crowd. (That lets uniforms out.)

Elizabeth's days are crowded with wartime activities. She works long hours, visits hospitals, police stations and bombed areas with her gas mask case swinging from her arm. She takes constant care to safeguard the king's comfort and health, inspects and encourages English women in war work and runs Britain's largest household. And she has kept her famous smile.

The pretty Duchess of Gloucester, wife of the king's eldest brother, has a series of jobs which keeps her busy six days a week. As air commandant of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force she frequently appears in the air force blue uniform and gold edged cap and travels constantly to inspect aid women's activities. She is also Colonel in Chief of the King's Own Scottish Borderers. Besides this she gives a good deal of time to hospital tours, tying up parcels for prisoners of war and dealing with the heavy family mailbag.

Like many other British families whose husbands are soldiers, the Gloucesters closed their big London house. The duchess lives at Barnwell Manor in Northamptonshire. When the Duke gets one of his rare leaves, she comes to London to join him for a few days holiday in the Buckingham Palace suite the king puts at their disposal.

The Duchess of Kent seems to be giving less time to social activities and clothes than she did in the days when her costumes made fashion history. Recently she went into a bargain basement and bought a hat for $1.45. These days she is generally dressed simply in black or in the navy blue uniform she wears as Commandant of the Women's Royal Naval Service. She visits hospitals, depots and canteens and has completed a 50-hour volunteer nurse training course. The Kents closed their big London house and are making wartime headquarters in a smaller one. Their two children live in the country.

For safety's sake Queen Mary and the two little princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, are living in the country, well outside London's danger zone. The girls take part in Girl Scout activities and are studying history, foreign relations, sewing, singing, piano, languages and cooking.

Recently the princesses headed a war savings drive. Margaret Rose bought the first of a new issue of war savings certificates and Elizabeth the first five-pound ($20 defense bond).

FULLER EXPLANATION

Clay Center, Kas. (AP)—"Gimme a buck roast," said the customer to the butcher.

Mentally skipping over his stock of pork, beef and mutton, he guessed he didn't have a buck roast.

"What is it, anyway?" he puzzled.

"Deer meat?"

"No, no," said the customer. "You know. A buck roast—a roast for around a dollar."

PROGRESS

Fort Houston, Tex. (AP)—The army is streamlining even its telephone calls, scrapping the conventional "hello" as useless verbiage. Soldiers answering calls in their official capacity hereafter will simply give their name.

SLIGHT MISTAKE DEPT

Goldboro, N. C. (AP)—A Goldboro housewife hurriedly seized her grocery list and set out for the store. At the store she found she had taken, by mistake, the complete roster of three major league baseball teams—compiled by her eight-year-old daughter.

PRR CARS, PIERS AND FLOATS BURN IN N.Y. HARBOR

Fire Started In Box Cars Loading On Barges

(By the Associated Press)

Jersey City, N. J., May 27—Two Pennsylvania railroad piers, 25 box cars and three Hudson river car floats, all laden with merchandise for shipment to New York city, blazed fiercely in New York harbor today.

The fire that swept over the open wharves sent flames and heavy smoke into the sky.

Great stores of lumber and steel were threatened.

The fire evidently started, police said, in cressets piling aboard a freight train ready for loading on barges for transportation to New York.

The piers and open wharves adjoining are just south of Black Tom, scene of a historic World war explosion and fire.

They are in the Greenville terminal, major freight yard for New York in the Pennsylvania system. Nearly two miles southwest of the Statue of Liberty, they are just north of the Bayonne city line.

Pennsylvania officials described the blaze as "fairly serious."

The rail company ordered all of its Hudson river and New York harbor tugs to remove all barges and car floats from the blazing docks while switch engines darted into the area to pull away loaded freight cars.

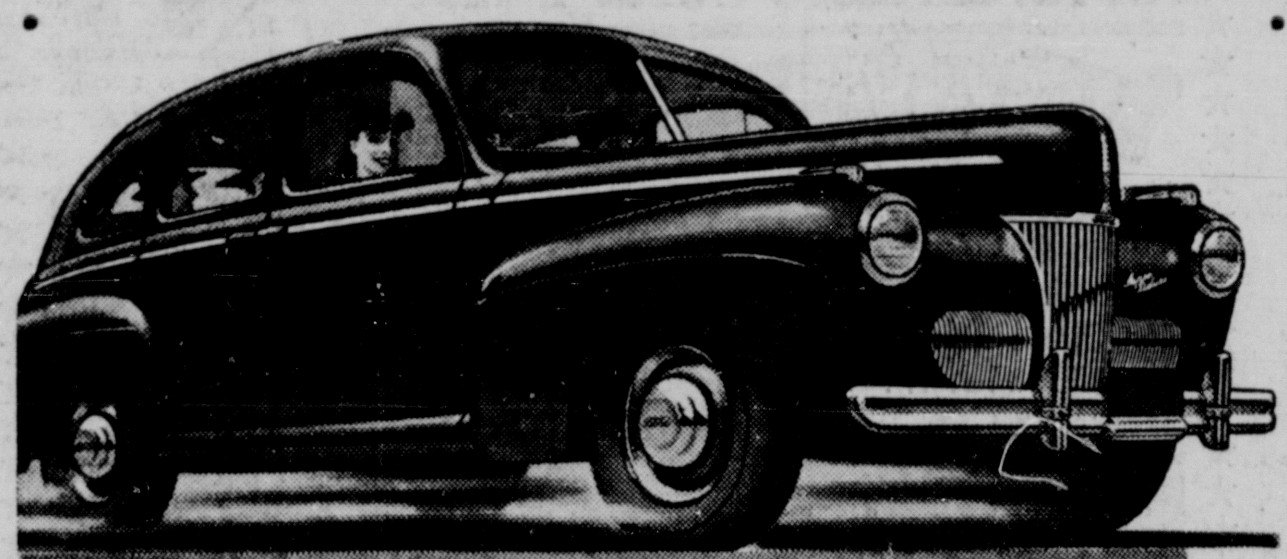

ROOF THATCHING BOOM

It Takes 18 'Soldiers' in Factory to Keep 1 Armed

Cleveland (AP)—Insisting that today's wars will be won in the factory, the National Machine Tool Builders Association calculates the present complex, mechanized warfare requires 18 men to maintain just one soldier on the firing line. In 1918 only five men backed up every man at the front.

The modern soldier fires a rifle three times as fast as in the first World War. He can travel, completely equipped, ten times as far in a day. The tank, introduced by the British in the first World War, but a limited factor until the closing stages, now is vital. And the airplane's long-distance bomb-carrying capacity is 32 times that of the last great conflict.

Therefore, the association calculates, "the real contest today is not on the firing line but on the factory production line, where defense equipment is built."

"The great army of men behind the army at the front today includes steelmakers, shipbuilders, metal workers, farmers, parts assemblers, inspectors and a long list of others. But none is of greater importance than the country's operators of machine tools—an army of over a million men."

There are hundreds of types of machine tools, some of them small bench-size units, others weighing 50 or more tons and standing as high as a three-story house. The industry says the demand is so tremendous that United States production this year will amount to $750,000,000 or $800,000,000 greater than last year, which was double booming 1929.

More than one billion copies of the Bible have been printed.

bottom — the first battleship ever reported sunk by aerial attack.

An American-made Cataline plane was credited with first spotting the Bismarck, bringing other planes and British warships to deliver the coup de grace to the already twice-wounded German craft.

The fate of other ships in the German force was not disclosed, but London dispatches had previously said that the fleeing Bismarck headed a squadron, and British sources declared that ships engaged in pursuit of the Germans probably included the 33,950-ton battleships Rodney and Nelson—and possibly the Royal Navy's newest and most powerful battle-wagons, the 35,000-ton King George VI and the Prince of Wales.

Elsewhere at sea, the Germans reported that Nazi U-boats had sunk 10 freighters totalling about 77,000 tons off the west African coast.

In the 8-day-old battle of Crete, authoritative London quarters challenged claims by the German high command that the British had lost 11 cruisers, eight destroyers, five torpedo boats and a submarine in the eastern Mediterranean during the conflict.

A London spokesman said British-Greek allied troops had inflicted "very heavy losses" on the Nazi aerial invaders and that reinforcements were now reaching the allied garrison.

Britain's Navy so far has prevented any big-scale landing of German troops by sea, the spokesman said, although a few slipsalops of Nazi soldiers in Greek caiques (small boats) may have slipped through.

Battleship Like Bismarck Costs U.S. $50,000,000

Washington, May 27 (AP) — A United States battleship of the class of the Bismarck, sunk today in action against British naval units, would cost in excess of $50,000,000.

Naval officials were unwilling to estimate, however, how much such a ship would cost if built under the Nazi system of government and finance.

The Navy roughly estimates the cost of building one of its battleships at $15,000 a ton. For a 35,000-ton vessel — the Bismarck's class — this would be $52,500,000. There are many factors, however, which might cause wide variations in the final expenditure.

More than 40 tributaries of the Mississippi are navigable.

African Veldt

In the Heart of New York City Wild Animals Roam

The New York Zoological Park has a brand new curiosity, one that drew 85,000 people the first Sunday the zoo was open. The attraction is five acres of land, transported, literally, from the African veldt.

Without bars or fences to obstruct vision, and with only a dry moat and a hidden palisade to prevent escape, roam zebras, cranes, warthogs, redbucks, waterbucks, springboks, African guinea fowl, storks, an ostrich, a nimpala, a nyala and a hartebeest. All are on speaking terms except the fueding eland and nyala, and the warthogs, hating and hated by all.

Just a good broad-jump away, part of a panorama unmarred by another moat, are the lions, sunning themselves on rocks. Realism is heightened by a densely wooded background which neatly blots out Bronx apartment houses. There is a waterhole, complete with whitening bones; a tall, conelike native storehouse, and a lion house of piling and a sod roof.

Zoologists are following the innovation closely, anticipating a back-to-nature trend in zoos.

HELPS—Strikes don't worry Warden Joseph W. Sanford (above) of federal penitentiary at Atlanta where 1,000 prisoners boosted their production for defense—TNT bags, navy firing packs, ship awnings, shell covers —100 per cent in 30 days.

Radio Programs
New York, May 27 (AP)—A listening audience of a size heretofore unequalled is expected by broadcasters for tonight's "fireside chat" by President Roosevelt via all networks, at 9:30.
In addition to the regular units of the NBC, CBS and MBS chains comprising approximately 525 stations, numerous non-network stations throughout the country are to join in.
The broadcast will extend worldwide via short wave over a dozen or more such stations, and Latin-American countries have made arrangements for relay to their listeners. Besides the direct English there will be translations in German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese, and also later relays to correspond with local time in overseas countries.

METERS, LIGHTS, MOSQUITOES AT NEXT MEETING

Council Hears Opposition And Opens Bids

Abe Harris, Baltimore street merchant, said he felt "the same way" on the meter question. M. B. Prazee, Baltimore street store manager, stated his opposition to meters and suggested that Council employ a person—to be placed on Prazee's payroll—to direct parking on his lot on West Middle street, near Baltimore, so that an additional 50 cars could be handled there.

C. C. Deatrich, Center Square store manager, described meters as a "mistake" and added to arguments previously advanced the contention that additional taxes on motorists should be avoided now. He suggested that the community or the county should have a vote on the question.

Council received a written endorsement of parking meters in the form of a resolution adopted unanimously by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last week and read to Council by the Jaycee's president, Donald M. Swope, Esq. The meters were urged with other suggestions for the "best interests of Gettysburg" on the grounds that meters would be "for the advantage of tourists, merchants and local shoppers."

Junior Chamber's Arguments
The Junior Chamber's resolution pointed out that recently towns have been by-passed by arterial highways because of local "bottle-necks" or traffic congestion and made recommendations to aid traffic flow here. Diagonal parking was opposed as were any additional traffic lights. The resolutions suggested modern traffic lights at corners now so protected but added the suggestion that traffic flow would be speeded if right turns would be permitted at all times for outbound traffic on Carlisle at Lincoln, on Chambersburg at Buford and on Baltimore at Steinwehr avenue.

Five Meter Manufacturers
Representatives of the five firms that had submitted bids on meters then were called in singly and allowed 10 minutes each to explain and demonstrate his meter. Both manual and automatic meters were shown but all were of the two-coin type, taking either pennies or nickels or both.

After the demonstrations were completed the meter men were called back into the Council chamber and the sealed bids were opened in the presence of all.

Bids By Meter Companies
The list of meter companies and the bids submitted by each follows:
Mi-Co Meter Company (Michaels Art Bronze Company of Covington, Kentucky), $45 and $47.50 depending on coin adjustment, plus installation and freight guaranteed not to cost more than $2 per meter.

National Parkograf Corporation, Chicago, $65 plus installation.
Miller-Meter by the C. K. Kuntz Equipment Company, Pittsburgh, $65 plus $1.50 per meter for freight and installation.

Mark-Time Meters by the M. H. Rhodes Company of Hartford, Conn., $50.25 and $62.75 installed.

Dual Parking Meter Company of Oklahoma City, Okla., $60.75 installed.

Traffic Light Bids
Council immediately proceeded with the opening of the two bids on traffic lights at proposed intersections. The Hurwitz Electric Company, Baltimore and C. K. Kuntz Equipment Company of Pittsburgh, one of the meter bidders, were the only firms submitting offers.

The Hurwitz company's bid for the lights and their installation in Center Square, at Chambersburg and Washington, at Middle and Baltimore, at Carlisle and Lincoln, at Stratton and York, at the Baltimore-Steinwehr intersection, and at the Buford-West-Springs and Chambersburg street intersection totaled $4,942.06 including the cost of blinker warning lights for East Lincoln avenue and for West Middle street at Seminary Ridge. The Center Square lights would cost $818 from that company.

The Kuntz company bid for lights for the same locations was $2,746.18 plus installation costs of $1,499 totaling $4,245.18. The Center Square lights would cost $353 from this concern plus the cost of installation.

Borough officials in addition to councilmen present Monday evening included Chief of Police Glenn Guise, Burgess C. A. Heiges, Secretary Wilmer Dracha, Solicitor E. V. Bullett, Treasurer Fred G. Pfeiffer and Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner.

LONG DISTANCE WEDDINGS FOR NAZIS

Berlin (AP)—Ingeborg Hulbert, 16 is the bride—by proxy—of a German soldier in Africa.

She was wed to Corporal Kurt Berg in a ceremony at the town hall here, a sun-helmet of the type worn by soldiers resting at her left. At the same hour Berg's captain performed a similar ceremony in Africa.

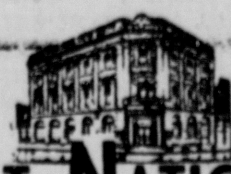

"Salting down a little is just common sense, Jim!"

"Unless you've got somebody to look after you, you've got to be ready to look after yourself one of these days."

"You never know when you're going to need money suddenly—and need it badly."

"I'm building up my bank account just to be ready for anything that may come."
